

Probation Institute Research Event Drug Treatment and the Justice System

Monday 25th April from 12.30pm to 2.00pm

Speakers will include:

Tammie Burroughs from HMI Probation on the issues raised by the HMI Joint thematic inspection of community-based drug treatment and recovery work with people on probation.

Professor Alex Stevens from the University of Kent will talk about his research on drugs, crime and public health, and raise questions about the hazards of net-widening.

April Wareham CEO of Working with Everyone will talk about her research on integrated treatment, particularly for those leaving prison; April will also encourage us be clear about the purposes and models of lived experience in drug treatment.

This is an open event using Zoom. Please register if you would like to join us by email to admin@probation-institute.org providing your name and organisation.

There is no charge for this event which will include facilitated discussion.
