

JOIN
TODAY

Practitioners inc. Academics: £40 per year

Students or unwaged: £10 per year

Retired Probation Officer: £10 per year

Fellows by invitation: £100 per year

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

Assures professional status in community justice

Offering and promoting publications, discussions, and events for professional development.

Delivers consistent messages regarding quality practice

Responding to consultations across the sector. Our accessible Position Papers include Race Equality, Remote Working, Court Work.

Publishes the Probation Quarterly

Consistently expanding – encouraging practitioner contributions and focusing on key themes.

Disseminates knowledge and research

The Sir Graham Smith Award invites research projects in probation, rehabilitation and resettlement. We work closely with academics across a range of universities two Research Events each year.

Promotes External Regulation of the Profession

Argues strongly for external, independent regulation of practitioners and managers.

Promotes Continuous Professional Development

Evidence based learning for CPD. Our learning resources are accessible to all at no charge.

Code of Ethics

The only Probation Code of Ethics - incorporating values consistent with the European standards adopted by CEP.

Builds partnerships

Working with a wide range of partners including Centre for Criminal Justice Studies, Centre for Justice Innovation, Napo and wider trade unions, Criminal Justice Alliance, the Magistrates Association.

Joining the Probation Institute is a statement of commitment to work towards a strong professional future for probation, rehabilitation and resettlement.

For further information contact admin@probation-institute.org